COMMITTEES NAMED TODAY

Persons Who Will Take Charge of Plans for Memorial Gate and Log Cabin are Appointed

FOR CENTENNIAL MEMORIALS

To Dedicate Them Chautauqua W
When Rush County Will Celebrate State's Anniversary

Definite action was taken today towards securing the memorial gate for the city park and the erection of the log cabin as features of Rush County's centennial celebration to be held Chautauqua week. The gate at the city park would be Rush county's permanent monument to commemorate the centennial.

John A. Tittsworth, president of the local centennial association, appointed committees to make arrangements for these various details and this forms the first concrete move towards securing the memorial gate and the log cabin.

The actual work will rest with the committees, and from all indications this will not lag and something more definite may be expected soon. It was originally planned to erect the gate at the main entrance of the city park and dedicate it Chautauqua week. This plan will be tried and be followed as it would be appropriate to dedicate it during the county's celebration of the one hundredth birthday of the state.

The memorial gate committee named by President Tittsworth is as follows: Finance committee—Earl Payne, S. L. Trabue and Wilbur Stiers; Construction committee—T. M. Green, R. A. Innis, and Cary Jackson.

The committees appointed in connection with the proposed log cabin are as follows: material, Mrs. Jessie Gary, Mrs. Capitola Dill and Mrs. Louis Lambert; construction, Mrs. Robert Kennedy, Mrs. G. P. McCarty and Mrs. Wilford Grindle; relics, Miss Mary Sleeth, Mrs. C. H. Gilbert, and Mrs. J. P. Guffin.

Under the arrangements as first suggested the log cabin would be erected by the Daughters of the American Revolution and it is likely that this society will look after the construction of the cabin. It is planned to place the relics and heirlooms, to be found in the county in large numbers, in the log cabin for display purposes.

According to the original plan, the memorial gate was to be erected by popular subscription and this will be followed out by the committee. It was planned for everyone interested to donate a brick for the gate and what little money would be required would go towards the actual construction.

WILL JOIN NAVY

Robert Abels, son of Mrs. Nina Lewis, has joined the United States navy and will take a course in the Chicago training station, after which he will become an electrician in the navy.

Congratulations To—

E. L. Kennedy, who is sixty-eight years old today. Mr. Kennedy is the veteran bridge builder of Rush county. He followed this occupation from his father and has built many large wooden bridges here and in adjoining counties. * * * This is also the birthday of Theodore H. Reed, who is sixty-four years old. Mr. Reed is engaged in the grain and elevator business, being the pioneer in this line in Rushville.

ELKS GO TO CONNERSVILLE

Accompanied by Band. They Expect to Advertise Fair Here

Accompanied by an improvised band of six pieces, several automobile loads of Elks went to Connorsville this afternoon to advertise the big indoor and outdoor fair which will be held here the last four days of next week—the 12th., 13th., 14th. and 15th. The Elks had large bills that they expected to pass among the ads attending the centennial celebration which continued throughout today.

COLT STOLEN FROM FRONT OF CHURCH

Police of Surrounding Cities Asked to Look For Horse Belonging to Austin Hite

TAKEN LAST NIGHT AT TEN

A colt belonging to Austin Hite, living east of Milroy, was taken last night and at a late hour had not been recovered although the police in the neighboring cities had been notified. Mr. Hite hitched the horse to the rack in front of the Milroy Methodist church shortly before eight o'clock last night and when he returned at ten o'clock the horse and buggy was gone.

The buggy was rather old and a little worse for wear but the horse was a good animal and was valued highly by Mr. Hite. It was at first thought that the animal had broken loose and returned home and an alarm was not raised until this had been investigated and it was found that such was not the case.

TROOPS SHIFTED TO MEET ALLIED DRIVE

Withdrawal of Germans From Verdun Hailed as Indication Offensive is Having Effect

REGARDED AS IMPORTANT

(By United Press.)
London, July 5.—The kaiser is withdrawing troops from the Verdun front to meet the supreme offensive of the allies which continued to gain ground on both sides of the river Somme in last night's fighting.

Dispatches from British headquarters this afternoon announced the appearance of German units from the Verdun battle ground north of the river Somme. The news was regarded as much more important than the statements reporting further gains in the fighting last night.

How many troops have been transferred is not yet known. But British military men declared tonight that the allies offensive has succeeded in one of its objects, the lightening of the German pressure on Verdun. They held that the shifting of troops from the all important German offensive indicates a shortage of German reserves and a realization by the Germans of the grave menace of the present allied offensive.

—Dave Jennings of Newcastle spent the Fourth here with friends.

—Miss Marian Wilson of Lexington, Ky., is here for a visit with relatives.

WILLIAM HIGGS NEW FIREMAN

Appointed to Fill Vacancy Caused by Resignation of Basil Seward to Become Policeman

MEETS NIGHT OF THE FOURTH

Council Transacts Routine Business,
Which Includes Arrangement
For Sidewalks in East 5th.

The city council met in regular session last night despite the fact that it was July 4. The meeting was rather quiet only the usual routine business being transacted.

William Higgs was appointed to the fire department, taking the place of Basil Seward, who resigned to become a policeman. The appointment of Seward to the police force was then approved by the council. The name of Higgs was the only one presented to the council.

Last night was the time set for hearing remonstrances against the proposed sidewalk improvement in East Fifth street. No remonstrance was presented, but the Catholic church and Frank Schriebe asked permission of the council to construct their walks under private contract. This was granted by the council as the improvements affects only these two. No time limit was placed as to when the walks must be completed. Under this arrangement the council will not have to advertise for bids.

The plans and specifications for the paving of the alley between Main and Perkins street from Third street to Fifth street were approved by the council. Remonstrances will be received on August 1. With the paving of this section of the alley, the alley will be paved for the total distance from Third street to Sixth street. The petition for the paving of this alley from Fifth street to Sixth has already passed and is ready for the receiving of bids.

The council decided to buy the motorcycle owned by Orla Price for the police department. The motorcycle has proved a great benefit to the department and the council passed a motion buying the machine.

MANY SEE CENTENNIAL

Connorsville Event Chief Diversion of Fourth Celebrators

Several thousand of the crowd that attended the centennial celebration at Connorsville yesterday were recruited from Rushville and Rush county. Attending Fayette county's centennial was the chief diversion of Fourth of July pleasure seekers although many others enjoyed picnics and long automobile rides. A few saw the review of national guardsmen at Fort Benjamin Harrison.

RUSHVILLE LOST

The Rushville team was defeated yesterday at Newcastle by the Maxwells 7 to 1. The team returned home with many kicks against Jack England, former Rushville resident who did the umpiring. England was badly off on balls and strikes. Only a small crowd witnessed the game.

—A party composed of the Misses Mary Ellen Carrol, Helen and Esther Black, Marjorie and Frances Geraghty, Helen Carrol, Kate, Marie and Hilda McKee, and Mary Moorman attended the Centennial in Connorsville yesterday.

NEW TAX BILL TO RAISE REVENUE

Effects of Measure Reported by House for Passage by Congress Will be Felt Here

THEATER TAXING CHANGED

Those in Towns as Small as 3,000
Must Pay According to Receipts—Others Fixed Rate

If it becomes a law, some of the many changes made in the new revenue bill reported by the house for passage by congress, will be felt here, principally by the banks and theatres.

The principal features of the bill, are:

The income tax is more than doubled all along the line; a tax on inheritance above $50,000; a tax on the profits of manufacturers of munitions of war; the abolishing of practically all so-called stamp taxes; protection for the dye stuff industry; provision for a nonpartisan tariff commission; payment of Mexican expense from bonds; an anti-unfair competition clause as a substitute for an anti-dumping clause; a change in the method of taxing theatres.

There is a change in the method of taxing theatres and banks and if the bill becomes a law in its present form these provisions will affect the moving picture theatres and banks of Rushville. The local theatres would have to pay one-half of one per cent. of their gross receipts while the theatres at small towns in the county would get in under the population classification.

In speaking of this phrase of the measure, Representative Dixon is quoted as saying:

"The basis for taxing theatres has been changed so that the small theatres will pay according to the population of the cities in which they are situated, instead of their seating capacity, as heretofore. The tax on them will be, $10 in cities of fewer than 1,000 population; $15 in cities between 1,000 and 2,000 population; $20 in cities between 2,000 and 3,000 population; one-half of 1 per cent. on gross receipts from admissions from theatres in all other cities. Thus these larger theatres will pay according to their receipts, and we have provided amply for the collection of this tax.

"The tax on banks of $1 on each $1,000 of capital, surplus and undivided profits will be retained, as will the tax on brokers of $30, and pawnbrokers, $50."

Domestic building and loan associations and farmers' mutual fire insurance companies, mutual or co-operative telephone companies, or like organizations of a purely local character, the incomes of which depend solely on dues and fees collected from members, will be exempted from the provisions of this tax.

When President and Mrs. Wilson went to New York recently to attend the West Point graduation exercises, the movies took pictures for reproduction on the screens and make references to the "Mayflower" as President Wilson's private yacht. This was an inadvertence, as the yacht is a government vessel, merely assigned for the President's private use.

Eagle Pass, Texas, July 5.—General Murguia today was reported to be moving several thousand Carranza troops from Piedras Negras, opposite here, to the railroad town of Allende, 40 miles south. The motive for the movement is unknown.

MEXICAN SPY CAPTURED

Carries With Him Papers With Details of Troops' Locations

(By United Press.)

Washington, July 5.—The justice department bureau of investigation today reported the capture of a Mexican spy on the border having in his possession the copy of a communication to a Mexican commander giving details of the disposition of the American forces along the border.

The Mexican has been released owing to the lack of proper laws to prosecute him.

DEFENSE IN BUNCH LOSES FIRST FIGHT

Special Judge Blair Overrules Motion for Dismissing of 36 Talesmen Drawn for Trial

PETIT JURY IS DISMISSED

(By United Press.)

Muncie, Ind., July 5.—Mayor Rollin H. Bunch today went to trial in the circuit court here for the conspiracy to solicit and accept bribes.

The defendant's attorneys lost their first court fight when Special Judge Blair of Shelbyville overruled their motion asking for a purging of the jury box and dismissing of the special venire of 36 names drawn for the Bunch trial.

Judge Blair upheld the defense's motion to dismiss the April petit jury.

Both motions were founded in the allegation that Dr. O. L. Boor and Dr. Herman Bowles, jury commissioners, had selected the names for the jury box "merely because they believed the men selected would make good jurors" and on the averment that the "old jury box was not properly constructed and that it contained the names of delinquent taxpayers—names placed there at the instance of the deputy county treasurer."

NEW ROOF TO BE PUT ON BY NOV. 1

Contract is Let by County Commissioners to Richmond Firm for $12,000

POOR FARM AWARDS ARE MADE

As was expected the county commissioners awarded the contract for the new roof on the court house to the firm of Geers and Behringer of Richmond. This firm was the low bidder, submitting a bid of $12,000. It was at this figure that the contract was signed. The new roof is to be of tile and is to be completed by November 1. The commissioners did not consider the proposition of repairing the roof and spending the balance of the appropriation for decorations.

Before adjourning Monday afternoon the commissioners awarded the contracts for poor farm supplies for the ensuing quarter, as follows; dry goods, Callaghan Company; meats, Weeks Fresh Meat and Provision company; groceries, B. A. Black, and clothing, Bliss and Cowing.

The commissioners will be in session again tomorrow.

IS WILLING TO NEGOTIATE NOW

United States Stands Ready to Deal
With Mexico in View of Carranza's Friendly Note

NOTE HAS PEACEFUL TONE

Embarrassment Resulting From Presence of American Troops in Mexico is Emphasized

(By United Press.)

Washington, July 5.—The United States government is willing to continue negotiations with the Carranza government in view of the latter's desire to maintain friendly relations as expressed in the Carranza note received here today.

This was made known by the state department officially today after it had considered the English translation of the Carranza message though whether such continuance will be by means of mediation or direct negotiations between the two governments was not revealed.

Completely pacificatory in tone the Carranza note, answering the last two American communications was sent to Secretary Lansing today by Mexican Ambassador Arredondo. The reply is brief. It emphasizes the significance of the immediate release of the American prisoners taken in the Carranza fight as being indicative of Carranza's desire to work with the United States.

Signed by Foreign Minister Aguilar, the note formally announces the de facto government's favorable attitude toward mediation as suggested by the Latin-American countries but leaves it to the United States to say whether this method or direct negotiations shall be relied upon to solve the situation.

The embarrassment resulting from the presence of American troops in Mexico is again emphasized but the demand for their withdrawal is not reiterated.

GUARDSMEN MAY BE HOME IN 4 MONTHS

When Glamour of Prospective War is Off Militiamen Will Seek to Avoid Drudgery of Camp

REGULARS FOR POLICE WORK

(By United Press.)

Washington, July 5.—Unless unforeseen events develop, militiamen now stationed on the border or rushing there probably will be back in their homes within the next four months.

Men in touch with both the military and political aspects of the Mexican situation said that when the glamour of prospective war was off, as it now seems likely to be, militiamen will seek to avoid the drudgery of camp life and get back to their families and employment.

Military men say police work along the border is strictly the regular army's job and that the administration must harken to the inevitable protest of guardsmen against any longer continued border service.

Taking these elements into consideration military men said openly the stay of the militia will not be long unless an unforeseen and unexpected situation arises.

Glenwood

A large crowd of people gathered at the M. E. church Sunday afternoon to pay respects to the late Henry Pettis, who died Friday in the Plann Creek vicinity. The Rev. Mr. Powers, pastor of the Palmouth Christian church, delivered the sermon.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Mack and daughters Eva and Alberta are spending their vacation at Glenwood Inn. Mr. Mack is city salesman for the Fancy Grocery house of Indianapolis, which position he has held seventeen years.

The Rev. Mr. Coombs is continuing the Christian revival meetings at the United Presbyterian church here.

A number from here attended the centennial celebration at Connersville the first three days of this week.

William Baker, while at work with the L. & C. section crew, got a cinder in his eye that caused him very much pain until it was removed by Dr. J. E. Walther.

The Rev. Daniel Ryan preached an excellent patriotic sermon at the M. E. church Sunday morning and in the afternoon preached at the Orange M. E. church. No services were held at the church here at night because the transformer has blown out and it was impossible to get electric lights. Glenwood has been in darkness for several nights.

Cocoon Oil Fine For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulified cocoon oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulified cocoon oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

Some from here have been attending the revival meetings at Ray's Crossing C. U. church, conducted by the Rev. James Brown.

Several attended the funeral of Mrs. William Brown, at the Grange Hall church, Sunday morning, conducted by the Rev. Jacob Hester. She had a stroke of apoplexy, Thursday at noon and died at eight o'clock that evening.

Dale Gordon will preach at the Arlington M. E. church Sunday night July 16.

Emerson Barnard's house was struck with lightning, Friday, and one of the beds upstairs caught fire, and filled the house with smoke before the fire was discovered. Mrs. Barnard crawled on her hands and knees through the suffocating smoke and located the blaze, then called in the neighbors and they soon extinguished the fire, which soon would have been uncontrollable.

D. E. Barnard was painfully injured, Friday, when the wall of the reservoir, in the cellar, which is connected with the bath-room, caved in, and the force of the water caused him to fall and the bricks struck his back and hips. When his son got to him he was almost covered in the water.

Howard F. Pressnall and family of Indianapolis, are visiting D. M. Pressnall and family.

Mrs. Delpha Rigsbee and children of Indianapolis, are visiting relatives here.

The funeral services of the late John M. Cavitt, who died last Saturday in Galeta, Montana, were conducted this morning at the residence of Sheriff Voorhees Cavitt by the Rev. W. M. Whitsitt. Burial took place in East Hill cemetery.

Work has started at the court house on enlarging the room now used for the court library. One of the walls of the hallway back of the bench is being knocked out and when completed this hall will practically be eliminated.

Mrs. Susan Oliver, age seventy-eight years, formerly of this county died at her home at Vermillion, Kansas on June 27, according to word just received by Mrs. Lot Holman, her niece. Mrs. Oliver was the last of the family of Silas Hilligoss. She left here a number of years ago.

Preparations are being made to move the sheds, formerly occupied by the Case lumber company from the present location in West Third street to the corner of Cerro Gordo and Second streets. The sheds are now owned by Robert L. Tompkins. The new location of the lumber yard will be near the Winkler elevator.

Through the courtesy of the Main Street Christian church, the Rev. S. G. Huntington of the First Baptist church will fill the pulpit at the Christian church each Sunday evening during the absence of the Rev. C. M. Yocum, who is recovering from an operation, and will preach to union meetings of the two congregations. The morning services of the Baptist church will be held in the court house assembly room while the new church is being built. W. E. Woollen and Jesse Kirkpatrick formed the committee from the Christian church to invite the Baptist minister to speak at the Christian church.

GRADUATE FORGET ABOUT NECESSARY ESSENTIALS IN LIFE.

(Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, Pennsylvania Commissioner of Health.)

A great essential has been neglected in the education of the tens of thousands of young men and women who are graduating from the high schools and colleges of the country. In the majority of instances they have had mental but not physical education.

Some few have devoted themselves to a greater or less degree to competitive sports. This number is but a small fraction of those who pass through our schools. Our curriculums are often so planned that they make physical development difficult or impossible. To lay the foundation of health there should be proper physical training under the supervision of specially trained medical men beginning in the elementary school and going through the college course. A few years of training in youth and early manhood and womanhood would serve to instill habits of personal hygiene which would aid inestimably to our future welfare, individually and as a Nation.

Today Sweden is leading the world in systematic education with a resulting high average of citizens individually prepared to take part in the defense of their homes.

TWO VITAL DEFECTS.

Elihu Root—"The defects of the present Administration arise from two distinct causes. The first is the temperament and training of the President. The second is the incapacity of the Democratic party as it is represented in Washington, both in the Senate and in the executive departments, either to originate wise policies or to administer them effectively if they are established. The Democrats in Congress are never controlled except with a club, the government with a club is always spasmodic and defective.

"These characteristics will not change; President Wilson cannot change his nature; the Democratic party will not change the character of its representatives; and there is no escape from having the same causes of weakness which have controlled our Government for the last three years continued in the future except the withdrawal of power from the Democratic party."

Administratrix Sale of Real Estate.

Notice is hereby given that on and after the 26th DAY OF JULY, 1916, in the city of Rushville, Indiana, the undersigned administratrix of the estate of John Churchill, deceased, will offer at private sale, the following described real estate to-wit:

Beginning at the intersection of the center line of Big Flatrock river with the east line of the southeast quarter of section 32, township 14 north of range 10 east, which point is 38 rods south of the northeast corner of said quarter section, thence running south 108 rods 10 links, to the center of the C. & D. railroad, thence in a westerly direction in the center of said railroad 3 rods, 5 feet, thence south 62 rods to a stone in the center of the Glenwood pike, thence south 78 rods, west along the center line of said pike, 114 rods, 6 links, thence west along said center line of said pike, 26 rods 14 1/2 links, thence north 2 1/2 rods, 37 rods 10 links, thence north 37 rods, east, 17 rods, 15 links, thence north 10 rods east 6 rods to the west end of the C. H. & D. trestle works, thence north 15 rods, west 20 rods, thence north to the center of Big Flatrock river, thence in a northerly direction in the center of said river to the place of beginning, excepting 2 acres herebefore sold by one Ricketts to the East Hill Cemetery Association and also excepting lot No. 103 in the Town of Carmel, and one-half of the street adjoining on the east side of said lot, also excepting what is owned and occupied by the C. H. & D. railroad and by the L. & C. traction company, containing in real estate hereby conveyed 111.24 acres more or less.

Also lot number twenty-seven (27) in David Graham's addition to the City of Rushville, Ind. Also fifty feet in width of the entire south side of the following described part of the west half of the southwest quarter of section thirty-two, township fifteen, 14 north of range 10, commencing ninety-eight feet south of the northeast corner of said west half quarter, thence south two hundred and eight rods and six inches, thence west parallel with the north line of said half quarter, one hundred and eighty-five feet, to the center of the J. M. & I. railroad, as now located, thence northeasterly along the center of said railroad to the beginning, excepting all right-of-way of said railroad.

Also lot number forty-eight (48) in the H. G. Sexton's heirs' addition to the City of Rushville, Indiana, except forty-two and one-half feet in width of the entire south side thereof. The first described land of 111.24 acres is located one-half mile east of Rushville, Ind., with a brick street up to the west line, nearly all in cultivation, good rich land, running water, small new house, large barn, corn crib, out buildings. The city property is in good repair and on good streets, not far from business, good neighborhoods, good place to live, or will rent well.

The production of manganese ore in the United States in 1915 was three times the production in 1914, due to the great demand for manganese in the manufacture of steel. The states which received the benefit of this war-order demand for manganese were Alabama, Arizona, California, Colorado, Arkansas, Georgia, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, and Virginia. The price paid for ore was practically doubled.

Burleson's Blunders

For some three years Postmaster General Burleson has enjoyed the unique distinction of being the most disliked politician within Democratic circles. For a time he enjoyed the reputation of political advisor of the President. To him was assigned always the task of battling recalcitrants into line.

Mr. Burleson, however, lost his usefulness as political counselor to his White House chief when he declared war on his Democratic colleagues in Congress and, interpreting legislation to suit himself, undertook to administer the Post Office Department along lines that were directly contrary to the letter of the law as laid down by the Democratic Congress.

His reorganization of the rural delivery service furnished a classic

A RUSHVILLE INTERVIEW

Mr. Priest Tells His Experience

The following brief account of an interview with a Rushville man over five years ago, and its sequel, will be read with keen interest by every citizen.

Geo. Priest, 223 W. 3rd St., Rushville, says: "I have been afflicted more or less with kidney trouble for several years. It came on me gradually and each day, I could notice that it was becoming worse. It started with a dull pain directly over my kidneys, dizzy spells followed and there seemed to be specks before my eyes. Doan's Kidney Pills were highly recommended for such ailments and I got a box at Johnson's Drug Store. They proved to be the best medicine of the kind I had ever used. In a short time they freed me from that distressing pain in my back and restored my kidneys to a normal condition.

The above statement was given on March 9, 1910, and on Aug. 26, 1915, Mr. Priest said: "Whenever my kidneys bother me, I use Doan's Kidney Pills and they always give good results. My former endorsement still holds good."

in foolhardy arbitrariness, and won for him not only the denunciation of Republicans but also that of a large majority of his own party. Mr. Burleson has only the small Southern Congressman's viewpoint, and with this he has undertaken to administer Uncle Sam's greatest business establishment. He is one of the men who "swelled, instead of grew," as Mr. Wilson so tritely put it. His reorganization of rural deliveries, announced as an economy measure, not only failed to in economy but showed a record low-mark in efficiency.

More recently Mr. Burleson incurred the displeasure of Senator Bankhead and other Democrats of the Senate Post Office Committee through the activity of his subordinate, Mr. Blakslee, in writing to postmasters throughout the country charging that the Senate Committee had "surrendered to the railroad lobby."

Now Mr. Burleson, at least with a consistency not always manifest in other Cabinet chiefs, throws down the gauntlet to Senator Bankhead and the Committee, and declines to censure Mr. Blakslee or to eliminate him. Meantime, the Democrats of the Senate are trying to veneer over the trouble and sidetrack what promises to be a very disagreeable situation.

However, Mr. Blakslee is but a tool in the matter. He was following the policies of his chief, and Senator Bankhead, in making war on Blakslee, is really trying to censure Burleson.

OLD LADY FEELING FINE

After Taking Four Bottles Of Cardui, The Woman's Tonic.

Cobden, Ill.—"Having used Cardui, the woman's tonic, in my family, for a number of years," writes Mrs. Kate Metz, of this town, "and always with such good results, I feel it my duty to write you about it, so that you may publish my letter.

My mother is living with me, and she is 52 years old. For the last three or four years, she has been troubled a great deal with cramping spells, and for days at a time, she would have a severe headache.

She read of how much Cardui has helped other women who were sick and ailing, and decided to give it a trial. She began taking it three times a day, and since then has been getting along simply fine.

Mother only used four bottles of Cardui, but she is no longer troubled with the severe headaches, and her stomach is so much stronger that she can eat most anything.

We both feel that any lady who is not strong and well, would be greatly benefited by the use of Cardui."

The National Chairman.

(Kokomo Tribune.)

William R. Wilcox of New York is the new chairman of the republican national committee. He was suggested for the place by Mr. Hughes and the sub-committee of the national committee immediately elected him, naming him on the first ballot and without a dissenting vote.

Although his name has not appeared extensively in the headlines of political writers, Mr. Wilcox has a record as a public servant that is not only noteworthy, but distinguished. The first position of prominence held by him was that of president of the park board for New York, his appointment being made by Mayor Seth Low. While in that position, he was the moving spirit of extensive and judicious improvement and recreation grounds, making a record enlargement of the city's park and that gained him the confidence and good opinion of the entire population of Manhattan. is next public service was as postmaster of New York, to which position he was appointed by Roosevelt. In 1907, Mr. Hughes, then governor, named him chairman of the public service commission of New York. It was under Mr. Wilcox's personal direction that the investigations of the traction companies were conducted which resulted in so many exposures. In all his public work he revealed himself as a man of the best ideals and of extraordinary force of character and capacity for management.

Mr. Wilcox is exactly the type of man one would expect Mr. Hughes to desire to direct his campaign for the presidency—a man who will want that the contest shall be conducted on a high plane and that it shall be kept as nearly free as possible from the influence of the purely politician class. He is the personal, as well as political, friend of Mr. Hughes. The latter knows him, admires him and trusts him. The fact that Mr. Hughes selected him is the strongest possible guarantee that he is the right man for the place. Mr. Wilcox begins his work as chief executive of the republican organization with the good wishes and with the entire confidence of all the party.

Aren't the People Entitled to Know All the Facts?

The House of Representatives in appropriating $11,000,000 to build a Government armor plant, voted down a proposal that books be kept so the public could know exactly how much Government-made armor will cost.

Advocates of a Government plant expect to get armor cheaper. Why then refuse to look facts in the face?

We can and will make armor for the Government cheaper than it can do it for itself—and we want to prove it.

If our offer to do so is to be rejected, aren't the people entitled to know exactly what the Government-made product costs?

That question is now before the Senate of the United States.

PREPAREDNESS IS THE KEY NOTE

Today's Session of National Education Association Devoted to Talks Along This Line

ALIEN PROBLEM CONSIDERED

Educators Told That Negro Race Needs Vocational Training—Luncheon is Given

(By United Press.)
New York, July 5—Preparedness for war and peace, the education of negroes and alien population are the key notes of today's session of the National Education Association here. G. Stanley Hall, president of Clark University, Worcester, Massachusetts, addressed the association on "The Present War and Education." He declared that the training which best fits for efficiency in times of peace should be emphasized in our programs of education. Fanny Fern Andrews, secretary of the American school peace league, Boston, advocated peace with honor at any price.

She declared "Nothing is more conspicuous in the present war than the sensitiveness of the belligerents to the charges of violations of treaties and the established law of nations.

The combined action of modern powers represented generally by the head conferences has developed this sense responsibility - a great step in world progress. On those who administer education in this critical time rests the responsibility of preserving and advancing those ideals for which all civilized nations are striving, and especially have the teachers of this nation an important part to play."

Hollis B. Frissell, principal of the Hampton Normal and Industrial Institute, Hampton, Virginia, spoke on "The Education of the Negro" in which he especially emphasized the need of specific vocational training as the secret of educating the negro race. "The Education of the Alien" was discussed by John H. Finley of New York, state commissioner of the teaching of languages, efficiency in trades and occupations, better home conditions, and the emphasis of the highest American ideals, Homer H. Seerly, president of the Iowa State Teachers College of Cedar Falls, advocated national aid for all forms of vocational education.

Other associations meeting today with the National Education Association are: American school hygiene association; federation of state teachers association; the league of teachers associations; the American home economics association; the national council of the teachers of English and the American posture league. Eight hundred leading educators of the association were guests at the luncheon given at the Waldorf Astoria in honor of David B. Johnson, president of the association, by the Department of School Administration.

A day at Coney Island, school athletics in the stadium of the University of the City of New York and an address by William Jennings Bryan advocating "school training that makes for peace with honor," were the features of the Fourth of July celebration of the Association here.

Many delegates spent the day at Coney and the stadium where four thousand children of the New York schools entertained them with military drill, setting up exercises, a pregame, park fetes and pageants. Last evening Mr. Bryan addressed the teachers on "New Meanings of the Peace Movement." He advocated training in the schools which makes for peace with honor. His address was strictly educational and wholly without political significance.

Other speakers in the general program were Ella Flagg Young, former superintendent of the Chicago schools; Charles R. Van Hise, president of the University of Wisconsin; John R. Kirk, president of the State Normal School of Kirksville, Mo.; Secretary Durand W. Springer estimates an enrollment of thirty thousand delegates.

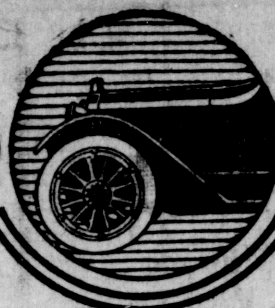

Twenty thousand delegates listened to William H. Taft, Ex-President and professor of law at Yale, talk on "Waste in Modern Education."

Non-essentials and lack of economy in school organization and administration, poorly trained teachers and ignorant school boards were scored and Professor Taft advocated a sane reorganization of American schools on the basis of diversified prevocational work in the elementary schools including a general program of work which fits pupils for the life which they are to live.

At the opening of the first general session of the National Education Association in Madison Square Garden today addresses were made by Governor Charles S. Whitman of New York; President John H. Finley of New York university and state commissioner of education; Regent Charles B. Alexander of New York university, Mayor Mitchell, David Starr Jordan, retiring president of the National Education Association and President David B. Johnson, president of the Winthrop Normal & Industrial College, Rock Hill, S. C.; who delivered the annual President's address on "Moral Instruction in the Schools."

Other speakers were: P. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education; Cora Wilson Stewart, president of the Kentucky Illiteracy Commission and organizer of the famous Moonlight Schools of Kentucky; Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Stiers and daughter, Eleanor, and Miss Christina Stiers motored to Indianapolis Monday evening where they were the guests of friends. Tuesday they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Lail in motoring to the Shades near Crawfordsville where they picnicked.

AT DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Barton Caldwell gave a pretty little dinner yesterday, having as guests Mrs. Arnold Dillon of the Philippines, Miss Mary Young, John Garbet, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Young and son, Charles, and Miss Sarah Millholin. Roses and pansies were the flowers decorating the table.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hubbard and sons, Ward and Fred, and Miss Ella Johnson of Indianapolis motored to Rockville yesterday where they were the guests of Mrs. Dooley and were accompanied by her to the Shades near Crawfordsville, where they picnicked for the day.

CHANGE OF MEETING

The meeting of Psi Iota Xi, which was to have been held with Miss Mary Jane Carr this evening, has been changed and will be held at the home of Miss Alleine Budd in North Harrison street. The hostess will be assisted by Miss Marie Calwson. Every member is urged to attend.

PICNIC

Mr. and Mrs. Gunn Haydon and children, Richard and Kathryn, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Gary, Mrs. Douglas Morris and son, Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Allen and daughters, Isabelle, Jessie and Ruth, and Miss Edith Wilk had a delightful picnic yesterday at a woods east of the city.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

Dan Kinney, who has the unusual distinction of having his birthday on the Fourth of July, celebrated his 71st birthday yesterday, when a dinner was given for him by Mrs. Kinney. Mrs. Belle Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hughes, Miss Hazel Rea, and Eli Kinney, the two last mentioned being from Newcastle, were guests.

A HAPPY FOURTH

Mrs. Boon Gilson entertained her children and grandchildren at her country home north of the city yesterday. The spacious dining room was decorated with honeysuckle and roses for the five course dinner which was served. All took advantage of the beautiful day and participated in the outdoor games. Music and recitations were rendered by many of the grandchildren.

BOWEN—LOGAN

Miss Wilna Bowen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Bowen, and Carl Logan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ora Logan, were quietly married Monday evening at the Christian church parsonage at New Salem by the Rev. Moody Edwards in the presence of a few invited friends. Immediately after the ceremony, they left for a short wedding trip, after which they will reside with the parents of the bridegroom for the present.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Schmalzel were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Will McManus of Gings yesterday.

Miss Dorothy Frazee was the guest of a group of young ladies at the Green Camp today.

Mr. and Mrs. William Gessler and daughter, Anna and Pauline, and Albert Sweet spent the Fourth in the vicinity of Morristown and picnicked along Blue River.

The Merry-Go-Round Club, whose dinner parties during the winter were a delight, had another gathering yesterday, when they picnicked at the Fair Grounds. The 24 picnickers included a number of families from Milroy and several from this city. A bountiful dinner was enjoyed on the grounds.

HOUSEPARTY ENDS

With a delightful all day affair held yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Caldwell west of the city, a houseparty which had continued throughout last week, was ended. Those having attended the houseparty were the Misses Margaret, Emma and Nelle Casady, Mrs. J. W. Casady and Mr. and Mrs. Fin Casady and son, Corval of Indianapolis. At the dinner party yesterday they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Claude Cambern.

SERIES OF AFFAIRS

Miss Josephine McNeil of Winchester, Ky., and Miss Gertrude Green of Indianapolis, who are the guests of Miss Beatrice Reeves of North Main street were complimented by a series of affairs that were given in their honor last evening by their hostess. After an informal gathering in the afternoon, the nine girls enjoyed a pitch-in supper. Shortly after, they had a theatre party followed by a visit to the confectionery. Last night was the slumber party and this morning, the hostess gave a prettily appointed breakfast. Pink roses adorned the center of the table at which the dainty meal was served. Aside from the guests of honor and the hostess, the guests were the Misses Leah Flint, Wanda Wyatt, Marian Scholl, Jean McClanahan, Gladys Wallace and Ramona Ewhank.

LAWN PARTY

The young people of Orange and the vicinity had a gay time Saturday evening when the Misses Druzi Crist and Mary McKee gave a beautiful lawn party at the home of the former in Orange. There were fifty guests entering into the gayety of the occasion. Japanese lanterns lit the lawn surrounding the home, which was also prettily decorated and thrown open. One of the rooms was decorated with a color scheme of pink, carried out with pink roses. Another brought out a red color scheme with red rambler roses and a number of flags. Two clever contests occupied the greater part of the evening, one an advertising contest and another in which questions were to be answered by the names of different kinds of nuts.

Refreshments of ice-cream, cake and lemonade were served on the lawn after which the guests played a number of informal games out under the lanterns.

Notice of Ditch Letting.

Notice is hereby given that the Trustee of Washington Township, Rush County, Indiana, will at the office of the Trustee on the 30th DAY OF JULY, 1916, at one o'clock p. m., receive bids for the improvement by cleaning and repairing the following ditches: Richard S. Miles ditch, John S. Prime ditch. Plans and specifications are on file in my office showing the number of cubic yards of excavation, where excavation is necessary, and the work to be performed in making such repairs, by sections of one hundred feet. The successful bidder shall be required to enter into a contract and give bond with two thousand dollars in a sum not less than double the amount of the contract so awarded. E. V. JACKSON, Trustee of Washington Tp.

THREE "C'S" IMPORTANT IN PROPER CARE OF MILK

The three "C's" for the proper care of milk in the home, according to the dairy specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, are:

Keep milk Clean, Cold, Covered.

Milk is a highly perishable food and the length of time it will remain sweet and safe, especially for children, depends, the specialists say, almost entirely upon the constant care it receives from cow to consumer. Milk passes through three agencies, the producer, the dealer, and the consumer. If the first two have done their part, clean, safe milk will be delivered, thoroughly chilled, to the consumer. The consumer's responsibility begins the moment the milk is delivered at his doorstep.

Because milk poured from vessel to vessel on the street is very liable to contamination from dust, manure particles and germs, milk is best delivered in capped bottles. If bottled milk can not be obtained, the housewife should try to have someone in the family receive the milk in a clean, scalded utensil, cover it instantly, and put it without delay into the refrigerator, or the coldest available place. Under no circumstance should an uncovered pitcher, bowl or pan be left out on the porch to receive bulk milk. The vessel, both before and after the milk is poured into it, is accessible to flies and collects particles of dust and dirt.

Even in the case of bottled milk, however, the consumer must see that the bottle is not left out in the heat for a moment longer than is necessary. Milk should be delivered and kept at a temperature of 50° F. or lower—the colder the better. At such temperatures bacteria develop very slowly and milk undergoes little change until consumed. A slight rise in temperature above this point, however, permits bacteria to multiply rapidly and brings about rapid deterioration of the milk, which may render it unfit for ordinary use and make it highly dangerous for babies and little children. For this reason bottled or other milk should not be allowed to remain in a warm place, as on a sunny porch or in a hot kitchen, for a moment longer than necessary.

In hot weather the best plan is to have the milkman put the milk directly into the refrigerator, because at that time of year milk can not be kept properly without ice. If a refrigerator is not available, provide a small box containing ice, and if the ice is unobtainable, provide some tight container with insulated walls that keep the heat from getting rapidly to the cold milk. A homemade fireless cooker is admirable for this purpose, especially if partially filled with ice. In the absence of any of these devices, arrange with the milkman not to leave the milk in the sunlight, but to put it in the coolest, shadiest place around the house.

In handling milk around the home, do not pour it from one vessel to another until it is to be consumed. Do not let the bottle of milk remain out of the refrigerator a moment longer than is necessary. Keep the milk covered, using paper caps or an inverted tumbler on bottles, or storing it in covered utensils. Any household utensil that is to be used as a vessel for keeping milk should first be cleaned thoroughly and sealed.

Before opening a bottle of milk, wash and wipe the neck and outside of the cap with water and a clean cloth. The little depression on the top of the cap may collect dust or water and any milk that leaks may attract flies. Lift out the cap with a pointed instrument, so that the outside of the cap, which may be contaminated, will not be pushed down into the milk. Each time the milk is to be poured from the bottle it is a wise precaution to wash the neck as described.

The refrigerator where milk is stored should be cleaned regularly, especial care being given to keeping the drip pipe free and clean. The ice rack also should be cleaned and any place where food is kept or milk stored should be sealed occasionally with sal-soda solution. The refrigerator, even though cold, may quickly be contaminated by a few drops of spilled milk, or by small particles of food. No matter how clean the refrigerator, milk should never be kept in an open vessel. As milk absorbs odors easily, such food as fish, cabbage, or onions should not be kept in proximity to it.

As soon as a milk bottle is emptied, rinse it thoroughly with cold water. Do not return dirty bottles and do not use milk bottles except to hold milk. Returning dirty bottles to the milkman may mean that a few days later either you or your neighbors will get contaminated milk. Milk bottles should never be taken into a sick room. In case of infections or contagious disease, all bottles should be boiled thoroughly and should not be returned to the dealer without the express permission of the attending physician. Such diseases easily can be made epidemic through disregard of this precaution.

Care of milk, important for all, is a vital necessity in a home where there are children. It is absolutely essential to the safety of babies. No intelligent mother will leave to an ordinary servant the task of caring for or preparing the milk for her baby. Mothers of small children should get from their own physicians explicit directions for the proper handling of milk and for cleaning and sterilizing nursing bottles.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together. And until the last few years, was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollar for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

ADS IN LONDON SCARE TOURISTS

Newspapers "Carry" Large Amount of Display Advertisements About Life Preservers.

GETS ON NERVES IN TIME

Outfitters Shops Are Filled With Patent Life Belts and All Travelers Wear Waistcoats.

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
BY WILBUR S. FOREST

London, June 22—(By Mail)—If American voyagers have qualms about sea traveling after a voyage from New York to London, a short sojourn in London before continuing across the Channel to Paris or the North Sea to Holland is not designed, just at present, to act as a sedative to frazzled nerves.

Outfitters shops, liberally scattered in the American's usual London itinerary, and the newspapers, constantly sound the warning "Be Prepared."

Display windows of those outfitters shops are constantly filled with patent life belts while the newspapers are reaping a harvest of advertisements pointing out the relative merits of "Somebody's Patent Waistcoat."

A news column also is occasionally devoted to a new invention which appears like an ordinary suit of clothes but is capable of floating the heaviest man.

Here is a sample "ad" from a big London daily which inject a doubt into the mind of the most intrepid civilian sea dog!

"DO NOT RELY ON DEATH TRAP LIFE BELTS WHICH TURN UNCONSCIOUS WEARERS FACE DOWNWARD AND DROWN THEM. REMEMBER THE MALOJA AND SUSSEX DISASTERS. O U R WAISTCOAT MAKES DROWNING IMPOSSIBLE BY TURNING THE WEARER WHEN HE CEASES TO STRUGGLE.

It has saved hundreds of lives from the Lusitania, Falaba, Costello, Royal Edward, India, Persia, Galicia and other well known disasters."

The "Ad" is fortified by illustrations showing the "unconscious" survivor floating serenely on his back while others (who failed to go prepared) are maneuvering through the preliminaries of a watery death.

One manufacturer of life saving waistcoats quotes in his "ad" from the experiences of a real Live Lord who owes his present status to his foresight in purchasing a waistcoat before venturing on the Mediterranean.

There are many and diverse models of life saving waistcoats. Inquiry today elicited that the sale of all models since the latest German submarine campaign, has been enormous.

Some models may be worn as an ordinary vest. The prospective survivor has only to reach down and extract a little tube, with a valve attached, from somewhere in his shirt front.

When danger comes he simply inflates the vest like a football and he is ready for the worst.

All travelers from England wear their waistcoats day and night while in the danger zones.

The American who leaves London without this little necessity is in a class by himself.

ENGLISH ARE NO LONGER ANNOYED

War Makes a Big Difference in Manner of Living and People Are Used to Inconveniences.

NEW SPIRIT HITS NATION

People Almost Willing to do Anything to Beat Germans—Tax on Almost Everything.

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.) London, June 20—(By Mail)—It has all happened so gradually in England that no one has particularly noticed it. But, if you have been away from London for six months you find upon your return that the last half year has utterly changed the lives of Englishmen.

Suppose for instance that your town were London. What would the war have done to it? Or to your home life? And how would you take these changes?

Would you be satisfied if half the matches you bought didn't light because the sticks broke or the sulphur tips were absent? And if the price on matches went up, in spite of this?

Or how would you take it if the coal man didn't make his deliveries and you found your home coalless some raw morning?

Or suppose the government put a license tax of $95 a year on your little family automobile for which you had paid only $500. And gasoline went up to 35 cents a gallon?

Suppose your morning newspaper kept getting smaller and smaller, week by week, because the newspaper supply was getting low?

Suppose for every dollar you made you had to turn over a dime to the government for war purposes, just as an income tax, not including the many small taxes you would pay on almost everything consumed in your home?

Would you be bothered? Strangely enough, if you had the spirit of the new England you wouldn't. Your whole idea would be to beat Germany and that idea would keep your attention so closely riveted to the battlefields that the details of home inconveniences would largely escape you.

At least, to a neutral onlooker, they have escaped the folk of London.

It is difficult for a neutral to understand this unless he is on the ground but, if you had the new English spirit - and such a spirit has grown up within the last six months and reaches down to the very core of English life - and your town were London, you would be enduring inconveniences that appear almost unbelievable to you.

There's beefsteak at forty-two cents a pound. Beefsteak, in your home in Missouri or Kansas, would become a luxury.

There wouldn't be many eggs for breakfast at 7 cents apiece.

Suppose as an Easter treat, you planned to have eggs anyhow, and then were faced by this announcement in the newspapers:

"Please don't eat eggs for Easter; our soldiers need a million eggs." Would you go without eggs?

You would. If you were a suburbanite and found a government tax put on your commutation ticket so that your morning and evening rides cost you an additional seventy-five cents a week. If telephone calls went up to seven cents from five. If your Havana cigars were not permitted to enter the country. If your daily drinks were raised in price from 25 to 35 per cent. If shaves went up from ten cents to fifteen cents. If your wife could only buy one pound of sugar at a time at the grocer's and then the grocer insisted that she make other purchases at his store if she wanted him to sell her sugar - If you think that you would be annoyed by all these things you are wrong.

Britons within the last half year, are doing and enduring all these things with great satisfaction and pride.

Under like conditions folk in American towns would do the same.

WONDERS WHAT EMBASSY IS FOR

David R. Francis, New Ambassador to Russia Holds Open House as a Plain American

NO LETTERS NEEDED TO GET IN

Better Relations Between Two Countries May Result if he Stays on the Job There

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS (U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Petrograd, May 6—(By Mail)—David R. Francis, former Governor of Missouri now new American Ambassador to Russia has solved the riddle of Why is an American Embassy? Incidentally he is a hit. And they say he is doing it by being a plain American.

"I don't pretend to be a diplomat," Ex-Governor Myron T. Herrick remarked shortly after he had been named Ambassador to France. "I am just a plain American sent here by the American government to look after the interests of the American people, and that is what I am going to do to the very best of my ability."

This Herrick did. When the war burst on Europe like a thunderclap he cut red tape right and left and figuratively went at things in his shirt sleeves. He assisted Americans in plain, effective, straightforward ways. And he made the biggest hit with the French, high and low, of any ambassador since Franklin.

From what Americans here say David R. Francis bids fair to duplicate Herrick's success, and in much the same way. He has turned the American Embassy at No. 34 Furshatskaya into an open house for Americans. The Yankee abroad does not have to bring letters from prominent politicians at home to gain admittance. He does not feel like an intruder when he calls. The place is a beehive for work yet no secretary is too busy to be pleasant. Nobody smirks but neither does anybody glare when a visitor appears at the door. There is neither fawning nor frowning, neither servility nor stupaishness - the entire atmosphere of the place is one of plain, simple Americanism.

"Going to be long in Petrograd? Drop around when you feel like it. Come and read the American papers. Don't need to ask for anybody. Make yourself at home."

That is the kind of thing Americans encounter at No. 34 Furshatskaya now. Nor is it exceptional. If one wishes to see the "Governor" as he is already called here—which in itself says considerable - he can be seen without interminable waits. If he is busy in his private office a secretary will say quite frankly:

"The Governor is talking to the owner of the building now but he'll see you in a minute," or words to that effect. One is not smothered in mystery thick as mush nor led to imagine that at least the Emperor must be waiting on the Ambassador begging for advice on how to run the country. The plain truth seems to be negotiable nowadays at No. 34.

Francis belongs to the "Marse" Henry Watterson type of American,

gone by Londoners, almost without comment, include:

Watching the birthrate fall so that nine babies are now born where ten were born before.

Riding in street cars and buses that are so dark that you can hardly see what fare you're handing the conductor.

Cutting down of mail deliveries. Moving about at night in pitch dark streets.

And knowing that new inconveniences are perhaps in sight in the near future, if the government discovers that they are necessary.

But London takes all these as a matter of course.

If the day's communiques from Sir Douglas Haig and Gen. Joffre are what London calls "good", London is satisfied, in spite of its home troubles.

To get the Germans licked is the main thing.

He is tall, well set-up, white of hair and mustache, possessed of plentiful natural dignity and poise but utterly lacking in pose. He had no actual diplomatic training before coming here so he does not try to make those who call on him believe he taught Machisvelli and Gladstone all they know. Having done a few things himself which require common sense combined with tact he has a pardonable amount of self-confidence and so hopes and believes he will be able to "get along". His conversation is unadulterated "American" nor does he make the slightest effort to wrap his each and every word in diplomatically and hermetically sealed packages and pass them along untouched by human hands.

The report is current here that both the Czar and the Czarina took a strong liking to the new Ambassador. The Imperial couple received him before he had been here a week, constituting a record. He wore no uniform and was detained in conversation with the Czar 35 minutes.

Governor Francis has a big job on his hands. The Commercial Treaty existing between Russia and the United States was broken off during President Taft's administration and a new treaty may be one of the important things expected of him.

Russia and America have not thoroughly understood each other for a long time and better relations generally between the two nations is another task entrusted to him. The American Colony here believe the right man has been chosen.

If you happen to be one of the Yankee legion who, in traveling abroad, have gone away from an American Embassy sore wondering why is an Embassy, and if you would still like to know the answer, write, wire or call at No. 34 Furshatskaya, this city.

Notice of Ditch Letting.

Notice is hereby given that the Trustee of Rushville Township, Rush County, Indiana, will at his office in Rushville, Indiana, on the 28th DAY OF JULY, 1916, at one o'clock p. m., receive bids for the improvement by cleaning and repairing the following ditches:

Abram Hackleman, Henry C. Mull, Thomas Loran, William Burroughs, William Alexander. All of said ditches are in Rushville Township, Rush County, Indiana.

Plans and specifications are on file in my office showing the number of cubic yards of excavation, where excavation is necessary, and the work to be performed in making such repairs, by sections of one hundred feet.

The successful bidder shall, within three days, be required to enter into a contract and give bond with two freehold securities in a sum not less than double the amount of the contract so awarded.

INDIANA HAS 1,124,043

The report of a shortage of horses in the United States is greatly exaggerated according to the reports of statisticians who have gone over the situation very carefully. According to the latest census, in spite of the heavy exports to Europe, there are more than twenty-seven and a half million horses in the country. Texas, the biggest state leads with 2,053,220 horses, while Rhode Island the smallest commonwealth has the smallest number, 27,508. Indiana is the eighth state with 1,124,043 horses.

COMMITTEES NAMED TODAY

Persons Who Will Take Charge of Plans for Memorial Gate and Log Cabin are Appointed

FOR CENTENNIAL MEMORIALS

To Dedicate Them Chautauqua Week When Rush County Will Celebrate State's Anniversary

Definite action was taken today towards securing the memorial gate for the city park and the erection of the log cabin as features of Rush County's centennial celebration to be held Chautauqua week. The gate at the city park would be Rush county's permanent monument to commemorate the centennial.

John A. Titworth, president of the local centennial association, appointed committees to make arrangements for these various details and this forms the first concrete move towards securing the memorial gate and the log cabin.

The actual work will rest with the committees, and from all indications this will not lag and something more definite may be expected soon. It was originally planned to erect the gate at the main entrance of the city park and dedicate it Chautauqua week. This plan will be tried and be followed as it would be appropriate to dedicate it during the county's celebration of the one hundredth birthday of the state.

The memorial gate committee named by President Titworth is as follows: Finance committee—Earl Payne, S. L. Trabue and Wilbur Stiers; Construction committee—T. M. Green, R. A. Innis, and Cary Jackson.

The committees appointed in connection with the proposed log cabin are as follows: material, Mrs. Jessie Gavy, Mrs. Capitola Dill and Mrs. Louis Lambert; construction, Mrs. Robert Kennedy, Mrs. G. P. McCarty and Mrs. Wilford Grindle; relics, Miss Mary Sleeth, Mrs. C. H. Gilbert, and Mrs. J. P. Giffin.

Under the arrangements as first suggested the log cabin would be erected by the Daughters of the American Revolution and it is likely that this society will look after the construction of the cabin. It is planned to place the relics and heirlooms, to be found in the county in large numbers, in the log cabin for display purposes.

According to the original plan, the memorial gate was to be erected by popular subscription and this will be followed out by the committee. It was planned for everyone interested to donate a brick for the gate and what little money would be required would go towards the actual construction.

WILL JOIN NAVY

Robert Abels, son of Mrs. Nina Lewis, has joined the United States navy and will take a course in the Chicago training station, after which he will become an electrician in the navy.

Congratulations To—

E. L. Kennedy, who is sixty-eight years old today. Mr. Kennedy is the veteran bridge builder of Rush county. He followed this occupation from his father and has built many large wooden bridges here and in adjoining counties. . . . This is also the birthday of Theodore H. Reed, who is sixty-four years old. Mr. Reed is engaged in the grain and elevator business, being the pioneer in this line in Rushville.

ELKS GO TO CONNERSVILLE

Accompanied by Band, They Expect to Advertise Fair Here

Accompanied by an improvised band of six pieces, several automobile loads of Elks went to Connerville this afternoon to advertise the big indoor and outdoor fair which will be held here the last four days of next week—the 12th., 13th., 14th. and 15th. The Elks had large bills that they expected to pass among the crowds attending the centennial celebration which continued throughout today.

COLT STOLEN FROM FRONT OF CHURCH

Police of Surrounding Cities Asked to Look For Horse Belonging to Austin Hite

TAKEN LAST NIGHT AT TEN

A colt belonging to Austin Hite, living east of Milroy, was taken last night and at a late hour had not been recovered although the police in the neighboring cities had been notified. Mr. Hite hitched the horse to the rack in front of the Milroy Methodist church shortly before eight o'clock last night and when he returned at ten o'clock the horse and buggy was gone.

The buggy was rather old and a little worse for wear but the horse was a good animal and was valued highly by Mr. Hite. It was at first thought that the animal had broken loose and returned home and an alarm was not raised until this had been investigated and it was found that such was not the case.

TROOPS SHIFTED TO MEET ALLIED DRIVE

Withdrawal of Germans From Verdun Hailed as Indication Offensive is Having Effect

REGARDED AS IMPORTANT

(By United Press.)

London, July 5.—The Kaiser is withdrawing troops from the Verdun front to meet the supreme offensive of the allies which continued to gain ground on both sides of the river Somme in last night's fighting. Dispatches from British headquarters this afternoon announced the appearance of German units from the Verdun battle ground north of the river Somme. The news was regarded as much more important than the statements reporting further gains in the fighting last night.

How many troops have been transferred is not yet known. But British military men declared tonight that the allies offensive has succeeded in one of its objects, the lightening of the German pressure on Verdun. They held that the shifting of troops from the all important German offensive indicates a shortage of German reserves and a realization by the Germans of the grave menace of the present allied offensive.

WILLIAM HIGGS NEW FIREMAN

Appointed to Fill Vacancy Caused by Resignation of Basil Seward to Become Policeman

MEETS NIGHT OF THE FOURTH

Council Transacts Routine Business, Which Includes Arrangement For Sidewalks in East 5th.

The city council met in regular session last night despite the fact that it was July 4. The meeting was rather quiet only the usual routine business being transacted.

William Higgs was appointed to the fire department, taking the place of Basil Seward, who resigned to become a policeman. The appointment of Seward to the police force was then approved by the council. The name of Higgs was the only one presented to the council.

Last night was the time set for hearing remonstrances against the proposed sidewalk improvement in East Fifth street. No remonstrance was presented, but the Catholic church and Frank Schrieche asked permission of the council to construct their walks under private contract. This was granted by the council as the improvements affects only these two. No time limit was placed as to when the walks must be completed. Under this arrangement the council will not have to advertise for bids.

The plans and specifications for the paving of the alley between Main and Perkins street from Third street to Fifth street were approved by the council. Remonstrances will be received on August 1. With the paving of this section of the alley, the alley will be paved for the total distance from Third street to Sixth street. The petition for the paving of this alley from Fifth street to Sixth has already passed and is ready for the receiving of bids.

The council decided to buy the motorcycle owned by Ora Price for the police department. The motorcycle has proved a great benefit to the department and the council passed a motion buying the machine.

MANY SEE CENTENNIAL

Connerville Event Chief Diversion of Fourth Celebrators

Several thousand of the crowd that attended the centennial celebration at Connerville yesterday were recruited from Rushville and Rush county. Attending Fayette county's centennial was the chief diversion of Fourth of July pleasure seekers although many others enjoyed picnics and long automobile rides. A few saw the review of national guardsmen at Fort Benjamin Harrison.

RUSHVILLE LOST

The Rushville team was defeated yesterday at Newcastle by the Maxwells 7 to 1. The team returned home with many kicks against Jack England, former Rushville resident who did the umpiring. England was badly off on balls and strikes. Only a small crowd witnessed the game.

A party composed of the Misses Mary Ellen Carroll, Helen and Esther Black, Marjorie and Frances Geraghty, Helen Carroll, Kate, Marie and Hilda McKee, and Mary Moorman attended the Centennial in Connerville yesterday.

NEW TAX BILL TO RAISE REVENUE

Effects of Measure Reported by House for Passage by Congress Will be Felt Here

THEATER TAXING CHANGED

Those in Towns as Small as 3,000 Must Pay According to Receipts—Others Fixed Rate

If it becomes a law, some of the many changes made in the new revenue bill reported by the house for passage by congress, will be felt here, principally by the banks and theaters.

The principal features of the bill are:

The income tax is more than doubled all along the line; a tax on inheritance above $50,000; a tax on the profits of manufacturers of munitions of war; the abolishing of practically all so-called stamp taxes; protection for the dye stuff industry; provision for a nonpartisan tariff commission; payment of Mexican expense from bonds; an anti-unfair competition clause as a substitute for an anti-dumping clause; a change in the method of taxing theatres.

There is a change in the method of taxing theatres and banks and if the bill becomes a law in its present form these provisions will affect the moving picture theatres and banks of Rushville. The local theatres would have to pay one-half of one per cent. of their gross receipts while the theatres at small towns in the county would get in under the population classification.

In speaking of this phrase of the measure, Representative Dixon is quoted as saying:

"The basis for taxing theatres has been changed so that the small theatres will pay according to the population of the cities in which they are situated, instead of their seating capacity, as heretofore. The tax on them will be, $10 in cities of fewer than 1,000 population; $15 in cities between 1,000 and 2,000 population; $20 in cities between 2,000 and 3,000 population; one-half of 1 per cent. on gross receipts from admissions from theatres in all other cities. Thus these larger theatres will pay according to their receipts, and we have provided amply for the collection of this tax."

"The tax on banks of $1 on each $1,000 of capital, surplus and undivided profits will be retained, as will the tax on brokers of $30, and pawnbrokers, $50."

Domestic building and loan associations and farmers' mutual fire insurance companies, mutual, or co-operative telephone companies, or like organizations, of a purely local character, the incomes of which depend solely on dues and fees collected from members, will be exempted from the provisions of this tax.

When President and Mrs. Wilson went to New York recently to attend the West Point graduation exercises, the movies took pictures for reproduction on the screens and make references to the "Mayflower" as President Wilson's private yacht. This was an inadvertence, as the yacht is a government vessel, merely assigned for the President's private use.

Washington, July 5.—The justice department bureau of investigation today reported the capture of a Mexican spy on the border having in his possession the copy of a communication to a Mexican commander giving details of the disposition of the American forces along the border.

The Mexican has been released owing to the lack of proper laws to prosecute him.

DEFENSE IN BUNCH LOSES FIRST FIGHT

Special Judge Blair Overrules Motion for Dismissing of 36 Talesmen Drawn for Trial

PETIT JURY IS DISMISSED

(By United Press.)

Muncie, Ind., July 5.—Mayor Rollin H. Bunch today went to trial in the circuit court here for the conspiracy to solicit and accept bribes. The defendant's attorneys lost their first court fight when Special Judge Blair of Shelbyville overruled their motion asking for a purging of the jury box and dismissing of the special venire of 36 names drawn for the Bunch trial.

Judge Blair upheld the defense's motion to dismiss the April petit jury.

Both motions were founded in the allegation that Dr. O. L. Boor and Dr. Herman Bowles, jury commissioners, had selected the names for the jury box "merely because they believed the men selected would make good jurymen" and on the averment that the "old jury box was not properly constructed and that it contained the names of delinquent taxpayers—names placed there at the instance of the deputy county treasurer."

NEW ROOF TO BE PUT ON BY NOV. 1

Contract is Let by County Commissioners to Richmond Firm for $12,000

POOR FARM AWARDS ARE MADE

As was expected the county commissioners awarded the contract for the new roof on the court house to the firm of Geers and Behringer of Richmond. This firm was the low bidder, submitting a bid of $12,000. It was at this figure that the contract was signed. The new roof is to be of tile and is to be completed by November 1. The commissioners did not consider the proposition of repairing the roof and spending the balance of the appropriation for decorations.

Before adjourning Monday afternoon the commissioners awarded the contracts for poor farm supplies for the ensuing quarter, as follows: dry goods, Callaghan Company; meats, Weeks Fresh Meat and Provision company; groceries, B. A. Black, and clothing, Bliss and Cowing. The commissioners will be in session again tomorrow.

United States Stands Ready to Deal With Mexico in View of Carranza's Friendly Note

NOTE HAS PEACEFUL TONE

Embarrassment Resulting From Presence of American Troops in Mexico is Emphasized

(By United Press.)

Washington, July 5.—The United States government is willing to continue negotiations with the Carranza government in view of the latter's desire to maintain friendly relations as expressed in the Carranza note received here today.

This was made known by the state department officially today after it had considered the English translation of the Carranza message though whether such continuance will be by means of mediation or direct negotiations between the two governments was not revealed.

Completely pacificatory in tone the Carranza note, answering the last two American communications was sent to Secretary Lansing today by Mexican Ambassador Arredondo. The reply is brief. It emphasizes the significance of the immediate release of the American prisoners taken in the Carrizal fight as being indicative of Carranza's desire to work with the United States.

Signed by Foreign Minister Aguilar, the note formally announces the de facto's government's favorable attitude toward mediation as suggested by the Latin-American countries but leaves it to the United States to say whether this method or direct negotiations shall be relied upon to solve the situation.

The embarrassment resulting from the presence of American troops in Mexico is again emphasized but the demand for their withdrawal is not reiterated.

GUARDSMEN MAY BE HOME IN 4 MONTHS

When Glamour of Prospective War is Off Militiamen Will Seek to Avoid Drudgery of Camp

REGULARS FOR POLICE WORK

(By United Press.)

Washington, July 5.—Unless unforeseen events develop, militiamen now stationed on the border or rushing there probably will be back in their homes within the next four months.

Men in touch with both the military and political aspects of the Mexican situation said that when the glamour of prospective war was off as it now seems likely to be militiamen will seek to avoid the drudgery of camp life and get back to their families and employment.

Military men say police work along the border is strictly the regular army's job and that the administration must harken to the inevitable protest of guardsmen against any longer continued border service. Taking these elements into consideration military men said openly the stay of the militia will not be long unless an unforeseen and unexpected situation arises.

Glenwood

A large crowd of people gathered at the M. E. church Sunday afternoon to pay respects to the late Henry Pettis, who died Friday in the Plum Creek vicinity. The Rev. Mr. Powers, pastor of the Falmouth Christian church, delivered the sermon.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Mack and daughters Eva and Alberta are spending their vacation at Glenwood Inn. Mr. Mack is city salesman for the Fancy Grocery house of Indianapolis, which position he has held seventeen years.

The Rev. Mr. Coombs is continuing the Christian revival meetings at the United Presbyterian church here.

A number from here attended the centennial celebration at Connersville the first three days of this week.

William Baker, while at work with the L. & C. section crew, got a splinter in his eye that caused him very much pain until it was removed by Dr. J. E. Walther.

The Rev. Daniel Ryan preached an excellent patriotic sermon at the M. E. church Sunday morning and in the afternoon preached at the Orange M. E. church. No services were held at the church here at night because the transformer has blown.

Cocoon Oil Fine For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mildified cocoon oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair. Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dirt, dandruff and excessive oils. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage. You can get mildified cocoon oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

The morning services of the Baptist church will be held in the court house assembly room while the new church is being built. W. E. Woollen and Jesse Kirkpatrick formed the committee from the Christian church to invite the Baptist minister to speak at the Christian church.

GRADUATE FORGET ABOUT NECESSARY ESSENTIALS IN LIFE

(Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, Pennsylvania Commissioner of Health.)

A great essential has been neglected in the education of the tens of thousands of young men and women who are graduating from the high schools and colleges of the country in the majority of instances - they have had mental but not physical education.

Some few have devoted themselves to a greater or less degree to competitive sports. This number is but a small fraction of those who pass through our schools. Our curriculums are often so planned that they make physical development difficult or impossible. To lay the foundation of health there should be proper physical training under the supervision of specially trained medical men beginning in the elementary school and going through the college course. A few years of training in youth and early manhood and womanhood would serve to instill habits of personal hygiene which would aid inestimably to our future welfare, individually and as a Nation.

Today Sweden is leading the world in systematic education with a resulting high average of citizens individually prepared to take part in the defense of their homes.

TWO VITAL DEFECTS.

Elihu Root—"The defects of the present Administration arise from two distinct causes. The first is the temperament and training of the President. The second is the incapacity of the Democratic party as it is represented in Washington, both in the future and in the executive offices, either to originate or to administer effectively if they are established. The Democrats in Congress are never controlled except with a club, the government with a club is always spasmodic and defective.

"These characteristics will not change; President Wilson cannot change his nature; the Democratic party will not change the character of its representatives; and there is no escape from having the same causes of weakness which have controlled our Government for the last three years continued in the future except the withdrawal of power from the Democratic party."

The production of manganese ore in the United States in 1915 was three times the production in 1914, due to the great demand for manganese in the manufacture of steel. The states which received the benefit of this war-order demand for manganese were Alabama, Arizona, California, Colorado, Arkansas, Georgia, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, and Virginia. The price paid for ore was practically doubled.

Patterson, N. J.—"I thank you for the Lydia E. Pinkham remedies as they have made me feel happy and healthy. Some time ago I felt so run down, had pains in my back and side, was very irregular, tired, nervous, had such bad dreams, did not feel like eating, and had short breath. I read your advertisement in the newspapers and decided to try a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It worked from the first bottle, so I took a second and a third, also a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Purifier, and now I am just as well as any other woman. I advise every woman, single or married, who is troubled with any of the foregoing ailments, to try your wonderful Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier and I am sure they will help her to get rid of her troubles."—Mrs. ELSIE J. Burleson's Blunders

For some three years Postmaster General Burleson has enjoyed the unique distinction of being the most disliked politician within Democratic circles. For a time he enjoyed the reputation of political advisor of the President. To him was assigned always the task of battling recalcitrants into line.

Mr. Burleson, however, lost his usefulness as political counsellor to his White House chief when he declared war on his Democratic colleagues in Congress and, interpreting legislation to suit himself, undertook to administer the Post Office Department along lines that were directly contrary to the letter of the law, as laid down by the Democratic Congress.

His reorganization of the rural delivery service furnished a classic

A RUSHVILLE INTERVIEW

Mr. Priest Tells His Experience

The following brief account of an interview with a Rushville man over five years ago, and its sequel, will be read with keen interest by every citizen.

Geo. Priest, 223 W. 3rd St., Rushville, says: "I have been afflicted more or less with kidney trouble for several years. It came on me gradually and each day, I could notice that it was becoming worse. It started with a dull pain directly over my kidneys, dizzy spells followed and there seemed to be specks before my eyes. Doan's Kidney Pills were highly recommended for such ailments and I got a box at Johnson's Drug Store. They proved to be the best medicine of the kind I had ever used. In a short time they freed me from that distressing pain in my back and restored my kidneys to a normal condition.

The above statement was given on March 9, 1910, and on Aug. 26, 1915, Mr. Priest said: "Whenever my kidneys bother me, I use Doan's Kidney Pills and they always give good results. My former endorsement still holds good."

in foolhardy arbitrariness, and won for him not only the denunciation of Republicans but also that of a large majority of his own party. Mr. Burleson has only the small Southern Congressman's viewpoint, and with this he has undertaken to administer Uncle Sam's greatest business establishment. He is one of the men who "swelled, instead of grew," as Mr. Wilson so tritely put it. His reorganization of rural deliveries, announced as an economy measure, not only failed to in economy but showed a record low mark in efficiency.

More recently Mr. Burleson incurred the displeasure of Senator Bankhead and other Democrats of the Senate Post Office Committee through the activity of his subordinate, Mr. Blakslee, in writing to postmasters throughout the country charging that the Senate Committee had "surrendered to the railroad lobby."

Now Mr. Burleson, at least with a consistency not always manifest in other Cabinet chiefs, throws down the gauntlet to Senator Bankhead and the Committee, and declines to censure Mr. Blakslee or to eliminate him. Meantime, the Democrats of the Senate are trying to veneer over the trouble and sidetrack what promises to be a very disagreeable situation.

However, Mr. Blakslee is but a tool in the matter. He was following the policies of his chief, and Senator Bankhead, in making war on Blakslee, is really trying to censure Burleson.

OLD LADY FEELING FINE

After Taking Four Bottles Of Cardui, The Woman's Tonic.

Cobden, Ill.—"Having used Cardui, the woman's tonic, in my family, for a number of years," writes Mrs. Kate Metz, of this town, "and always with such good results, I feel it my duty to write you about it, so that you may publish my letter.

My mother is living with me, and she is 52 years old. For the last three or four years, she has been troubled a great deal with cramping spells, and for days at a time, she would have a severe headache.

She read of how much Cardui has helped other women who were sick and ailing, and decided to give it a trial. She began taking it three times a day, and since then has been getting along simply fine.

Mother only used four bottles of Cardui, but she is no longer troubled with the severe headaches, and her stomach is so much stronger that she can eat most anything.

We both feel that any lady who is not strong and well, would be greatly benefited by the use of Cardui."

The National Chairman.
(Kokomo Tribune.)

William R. Wilcox of New York is the new chairman of the republican national committee. He was suggested for the place by Mr. Hughes and the sub-committee of the national committee immediately elected him, naming him on the first ballot and without a dissenting vote.

Although his name has not appeared extensively in the headlines of political writers, Mr. Wilcox has a record as a public servant that is not only noteworthy, but distinguished. The first position of prominence held by him was that of president of the park board for New York, his appointment being made by Mayor Seth Low. While in that position, he was the moving spirit of extensive and judicious improvement and recreation grounds, making a record enlargement of the city's park and that gained him the confidence and good opinion of the entire population of Manhattan. His next public service was as postmaster of New York, to which position he was appointed by Roosevelt. In 1907, Mr. Hughes, then governor, named him chairman of the public service commission of New York. It was under Mr. Wilcox's personal direction that the investigations of the traction companies were conducted which resulted in so many exposures. In all his public work he revealed himself as a man of the best ideals and of extraordinary force of character and capacity for management.

Mr. Wilcox is exactly the type of man one would expect Mr. Hughes to desire to direct his campaign for the presidency—a man who will want that the contest shall be conducted on a high plane and that it shall be kept as nearly free as possible from the influence of the purely politician class. He is the personal, as well as political, friend of Mr. Hughes. The latter knows him, admires him and trusts him. The fact that Mr. Hughes selected him is the strongest possible guarantee that he is the right man for the place. Mr. Wilcox begins his work as chief executive of the republican organization with the good wishes and with the entire confidence of all the party.

Bulletin No. 7

Aren't the People Entitled to Know All the Facts?

The House of Representatives in appropriating $11,000,000 to build a Government armor plant, voted down a proposal that books be kept so the public could know exactly how much Government-made armor will cost.

Advocates of a Government plant expect to get armor cheaper. Why then refuse to look facts in the face?

We can and will make armor for the Government cheaper than it can do it for itself—and we want to prove it.

If our offer to do so is to be rejected, aren't the people entitled to know exactly what the Government-made product costs?

That question is now before the Senate of the United States.

PREPAREDNESS IS THE KEY NOTE

Today's Session of National Education Association Devoted to Talks Along This Line

ALIEN PROBLEM CONSIDERED

Educators Told That Negro Race Needs Vocational Training—Luncheon is Given

(By United Press.)

New York, July 5—Preparedness for war and peace, the education of negroes and alien population are the key notes of today's session of the National Education Association here. G. Stanley Hall, president of Clark University, Worcester, Massachusetts, addressed the association on "The Present War and Education." He declared that the training which best fits for efficiency in times of peace should be emphasized in our programs of education. Fanny Fern Andrews, secretary of the American school peace league, Boston, advocated peace with honor at any price.

She declared "Nothing is more conspicuous in the present war than the sensitiveness of the belligerents to the charges of violations of treaties and the established law of nations.

The combined action of modern powers represented generally by the head conferences has developed this sense responsibility—a great step in world progress. On those who administer education in this critical time rests the responsibility of preserving and advancing those ideals for which all civilized nations are striving, and especially have the teachers of this nation an important part to play."

Hollis B. Frissell, principal of the Hampton Normal and Industrial Institute, Hampton, Virginia, spoke on "The Education of the Negro" in which he especially emphasized the need of specific vocational training as the secret of educating the negro race. "The Education of the Alien" was discussed by John H. Finley of New York, state commissioner of the teaching of languages, efficiency in trades and occupations, better home conditions, and the emphasis of the highest American ideals, Homer H. Seerly, president of the Iowa State Teachers College of Cedar Falls, advocated national aid for all forms of vocational education.

Other associations meeting today with the National Education Association are: American school hygiene association; federation of state teachers association; the league of teachers associations; the American home economics association; the national council of the teachers of English and the American posture league. Eight hundred leading educators of the association were guests at the luncheon given at the Waldorf Astoria in honor of David B. Johnson, president of the association, by the Department of School Administration.

A day at Coney Island, school athletics in the stadium of the University of the City of New York and an address by William Jennings Bryan advocating "school training that makes for peace with honor," were the features of the Fourth of July celebration of the Association here.

Many delegates spent the day at Coney and the stadium where four thousand children of the New York schools entertained them with military drill, setting up exercises, a pageant, park fetes and pageants. Last evening Mr. Bryan addressed the teachers on "New Meanings of the Peace Movement." He advocated training in the schools which makes for peace with honor. His address was strictly educational and wholly without political finance.

Other speakers in a general program were Ella May Young, former superintendent of the Chicago schools; Charles R. Van Hise, president of the University of Wisconsin; John R. Kirk, president of the State Normal School of Kirksville, Mo.; Secretary Darand W. Springer estimates an enrollment of thirty thousand delegates.

Twenty thousand delegates listened to William H. Taft, Ex-President and professor of law at Yale, talk on "Waste in Modern Education." Non-essentials and lack of economy in school organization and administration, poorly trained teachers and ignorant school boards were scored and Professor Taft advocated a sane reorganization of American schools on the basis of diversified prevocational work in the elementary schools including a general program of work which fits pupils for the life which they are to live.

At the opening of the first general session of the National Education Association in Madison Square Garden today addresses were made by Governor Charles S. Whitman of New York; President John H. Finley of New York university and state commissioner of education; Regent Charles B. Alexander of New York university; Mayor Mitchell David Starr Jordan, retiring president of the National Education Association and President David B. Johnson, president of the Winthrop Normal & Industrial College, Rock Hill, S. C., who delivered the annual President's address on "Moral Instruction in the Schools."

Other speakers were: P. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education; Cora Wilson Stewart, president of the Kentucky Illiteracy Commission and organizer of the famous Moonlight Schools of Kentucky; Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma.

Thursday

Grand Club, with Mrs. J. C. Sexton at her home in North Main street, in the afternoon.

Emanon Club, with Mrs. Bert Mullin at 716 North Perkins street, in the afternoon.

Mrs. Bert Mullin will entertain the members of the Emanon Club tomorrow at her home in North Perkins street.

Miss Mary Harrold, Miss Kathleen Hogsett, Denning Havens, Rex Readle and John Kennedy motored to Brookville yesterday for a picnic.

Mr. and Mrs. Revilo Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Simpson, Miss Estelle Jones, and John Lee motored to Shelbyville yesterday and picnicked in a woods near there for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Stiers and daughter, Eleanor, and Miss Christina Stiers motored to Indianapolis Monday evening where they were the guests of friends. Tuesday they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Lail in motoring to the Shades near Crawfordsville where they picnicked.

AT DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Barton Caldwell gave a pretty little dinner yesterday, having as guests Mrs. Arnold Dillon of the Philippines, Miss Mary Young, John Garbet, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Young and son, Charles, and Miss Sarah Millholin. Roses and pansies were the flowers decorating the table.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hubbard and sons, Ward and Fred, and Miss Ella Johnson of Indianapolis motored to Rockville yesterday where they were the guests of Mrs. Dooley and were accompanied by her to the Shades near Crawfordsville, where they picnicked for the day.

CHANGE OF MEETING

The meeting of Psi Iota Xi, which was to have been held with Miss Mary Jane Carr this evening, has been changed and will be held at the home of Miss Aline Budd in North Harrison street. The hostess will be assisted by Miss Marie Calwson. Every member is urged to attend.

PICNIC

Mr. and Mrs. Gunn Haydon and children, Richard and Kathryn, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Gary, Mrs. Douglas Morris and son, Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Allen and daughters, Isabelle, Jessie and Ruth, and Miss Edith Wilk had a delightful picnic yesterday at a woods east of the city.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

Dan Kinney, who has the unusual distinction of having his birthday on the Fourth of July, celebrated his 71st birthday yesterday, when a dinner was given for him by Mrs. Kinney. Mrs. Belle Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hughes, Miss Hazel Rea, and Eli Kinney, the two last mentioned being from Newcastle, were guests.

A HAPPY FOURTH

Mrs. Boon Gilson entertained her children and grandchildren at her country home north of the city yesterday. The spacious dining room was decorated with honeysuckle and roses for the five course dinner which was served. All took advantage of the beautiful day and participated in the outdoor games. Music and recitations were rendered by many of the grandchildren.

BOWEN-LOGAN

Miss Wilna Bowen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Bowen, and Carl Logan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ora Logan, were quietly married Monday evening at the Christian church parsonage at New Salem by the Rev. Moody Edwards in the presence of a few invited friends. Immediately after the ceremony, they left for a short wedding trip, after which they will reside with the parents of the bridegroom for the present.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Schmalzer were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Will McManus of Gings yesterday.

Miss Dorothy Frazee was the guest of a group of young ladies at the Green Camp today.

Mr. and Mrs. William Gessler and daughter, Anna, and Pauline, and Albert Sweet spent the Fourth in the vicinity of Morristown and picnicked along Blue River.

The Merry-Go-Round Club, whose dinner parties during the winter were a delight, had another gathering yesterday, when they picnicked at the Fair Grounds. The 24 picnickers included a number of families from Milroy and several from this city. A bountiful dinner was enjoyed on the grounds.

HOUSEPARTY ENDS

With a delightful all day affair held yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Caldwell west of the city, a houseparty which had continued throughout last week, was ended. Those having attended the houseparty were the Misses Margaret, Emma and Nelle Casady, Mrs. J. W. Casady and Mr. and Mrs. Fin Casady and son, Corval of Indianapolis. At the dinner party yesterday they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Claude Cambern.

SERIES OF AFFAIRS

Miss Josephine McNeil of Winchester, Ky., and Miss Gertrude Green of Indianapolis, who are the guests of Miss Beatrice Reeves of North Main street were complimented by a series of affairs that were given in their honor last evening by their hostess. After an informal gathering in the afternoon, the nine girls enjoyed a pitch-in supper. Shortly after, they had a theatre party followed by a visit to the confectionery. Last night was the slumber party and this morning, the hostess gave a prettily appointed breakfast. Pink roses adorned the center of the table at which the dainty meal was served. Aside from the guests of honor and the hostess, the guests were the Misses Leah Flint, Wanda Wyatt, Marian Scholl, Jean McClanahan, Gladys Wallace and Ramona Ewbank.

LAWN PARTY

The young people of Orange and the vicinity had a gay time Saturday evening when the Misses Druzi Crist and Mary McKee gave a beautiful lawn party at the home of the former in Orange. There were fifty guests entering into the gaiety of the occasion. Japanese lanterns lit the lawn surrounding the home, which was also prettily decorated and thrown open. One of the rooms was decorated with a color scheme of pink, carried out with pink roses. Another brought out a red color scheme with red ramblers roses and a number of flags. Two clever contests occupied the greater part of the evening, one an advertising contest and another in which questions were to be answered by the names of different kinds of nuts.

Refreshments of ice-cream, cake and lemonade were served on the lawn after which the guests played a number of informal games out under the lanterns.

THREE "C'S" IMPORTANT IN PROPER CARE OF MILK

The three "C's" for the proper care of milk in the home, according to the dairy specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, are:

Keep milk Clean, Cold, Covered.

Milk is a highly perishable food and the length of time it will remain sweet and safe, especially for children, depends, the specialists say, almost entirely upon the constant care it receives from cow to consumer. Milk passes through three agencies, the producer, the dealer, and the consumer. If the first two have done their part, clean, safe milk will be delivered, thoroughly chilled, to the consumer. The consumer's responsibility begins the moment the milk is delivered at his doorstep.

Because milk poured from vessel to vessel on the street is very liable to contamination from dust, manure particles and germs, milk is best delivered in capped bottles. If bottled milk can not be obtained, the housewife should try to have someone in the family receive the milk in a clean, scalded utensil, cover it instantly, and put it without delay into the refrigerator, or the coldest available place. Under no circumstance should an uncovered pitcher, bowl or pan be left out on the porch to receive bulk milk. The vessel both before and after the milk is poured into it, is accessible to flies and collects particles of dust and dirt.

Even in the case of bottled milk, however, the consumer must see that the bottle is not left out in the heat for a moment longer than is necessary. Milk should be delivered and kept at a temperature of 50° F. or lower—the colder the better. At such temperatures bacteria develop very slowly and milk undergoes little change until consumed. A slight rise in temperature above this point, however, permits bacteria to multiply rapidly and brings about rapid deterioration of the milk, which may render it unfit for ordinary use and make it highly dangerous for babies and little children. For this reason bottled or other milk should not be allowed to remain in a warm place, as on a sunny porch or in a hot kitchen, for a moment longer than necessary.

In hot weather the best plan is to have the milkman put the milk directly into the refrigerator, because at that time of year milk can not be kept properly without ice. If a refrigerator is not available, provide a small box containing ice, and if the ice is unobtainable, provide some tight container with insulated walls that keep the heat from getting rapidly to the cold milk. A homemade fireless cooker is admirable for this purpose, especially if partially filled with ice. In the absence of any of these devices, arrange with the milkman not to leave the milk in the sunlight, but to put it in the coolest, shadiest place around the house.

In handling milk around the home, do not pour it from one vessel to another until it is to be consumed. Do not let the bottle of milk remain out of the refrigerator a moment longer than is necessary. Keep the milk covered, using paper caps or an inverted tumbler on bottles, or storing it in covered utensils. Any household utensil that is to be used as a vessel for keeping milk should first be cleaned thoroughly and scalded.

Before opening a bottle of milk, wash and wipe the neck and outside of the cap with water and a clean cloth. The little depression on the top of the cap may collect dust or water and any milk that leaks may attract flies. Lift out the cap with a pointed instrument, so that the outside of the cap, which may be contaminated, will not be pushed down into the milk. Each time the milk is to be poured from the bottle it is a wise precaution to wash the neck as described.

The refrigerator where milk is stored should be cleaned regularly, especial care being given to keeping the drip pipe free and clean. The ice rack also should be cleaned and any place where food is kept or milk stored should be scalded occasionally with sal-soda solution. The refrigerator, even though cold, may quickly be contaminated by a few drops of spilled milk, or by small particles of food. No matter how clean the refrigerator, milk should never be kept in an open vessel. As milk absorbs odors easily, such food as fish, cabbage, or onions should not be kept in proximity to it.

As soon as a milk bottle is emptied, rinse it thoroughly with cold water. Do not return dirty bottles and do not use milk bottles except to hold milk. Returning dirty bottles to the milkman may mean that a few days later either you or your neighbors will get contaminated milk. Milk bottles should never be taken into a sick room. In case of infections or contagious disease, all bottles should be boiled thoroughly and should not be returned to the dealer without the express permission of the attending physician. Such diseases easily can be made epidemic through disregard of this precaution.

Care of milk, important for all, is a vital necessity in a home where there are children. It is absolutely essential to the safety of babies. No intelligent mother will leave to an ordinary servant the task of caring for or preparing the milk for her baby. Mothers of small children should get from their own physicians explicit directions for the proper handling of milk and for cleaning and sterilizing nursing bottles.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together. Until the last few years, was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally, it reaches directly on the affected mucous surfaces of the system. It cures in one hundred dollars, for any case, it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. ADS IN LONDON SCARE TOURISTS

Newspapers "Carry" Large Amount of Display Advertisements About Life Preservers.

GETS ON NERVES IN TIME

Outfitters Shops Are Filled With Patent Life Belts and All Traders Wear Waistcoats.

(U. S. Star Correspondent)
BY WILBER S. FORREST
London, June 22 (By Mail).

If American voyagers have qualms about sea traveling after a voyage from New York to London, a short sojourn in London before continuing across the Channel to Paris or the North Sea to Holland is not desirable, just at present, to act as a sedative to frazzled nerves.

Outfitters shops, liberally scattered in the American's usual London itinerary, and the newspapers, constantly sound the warning "Be Prepared."

Display windows of those outfitters shops are constantly filled with patent-life belts while the newspapers are reaping a harvest of advertisements pointing out the relative merits of "Somebody's Patent Waistcoat."

A news column also is occasionally devoted to a new invention which appears like an ordinary suit of clothes but is capable of floating the heaviest man.

Here is a sample "ad" from a big London daily which inject a doubt into the mind of the most intrepid civilian sea dog!

"DO NOT RELY ON DEATH TRAP LIFE BELTS WHICH TURN UNCONSCIOUS WEARERS FACE DOWNWARD AND DROWN THEM. REMEMBER THE MALOJA AND SUSSEX DISASTERS: O. U. R. WAISTSCOTCHMAKES DROWNING IMPOSSIBLE BY TURNING THE WEARER WHEN HE CEASES TO STRUGGLE.

It has saved hundreds of lives from the Lusitania, Falaba, Costello, Royal Edward, India, Persia, Galicia and other well known disasters."

The "Ad" is fortified by illustrations showing the "unconscious" survivor floating serenely on his back while others (who failed to go prepared) are maneuvering through the preliminaries of a watery death.

One manufacturer of life saving waistcoats quotes in his "ad" from the experiences of a real Live Lord who owes his present status to his foresight in purchasing a waistcoat before venturing on the Mediterranean.

There are many and diverse models of life saving waistcoats. Inquiry today elicited that the sale of all models since the latest German submarine campaign, has been enormous.

Some models may be worn as an ordinary vest. The prospective survivor has only to reach down and extract a little tube, with a valve attached, from somewhere in his shirt front.

When danger comes he simply inflates the vest like a football and he is ready for the worst.

All travelers from England wear their waistcoats day and night while in the danger zones.

The American who leaves London without this little necessity is in a class by himself.

ENGLISH ARE NO LONGER ANNOYED

War Makes a Big Difference in Manner of Living and People Are Used to Inconveniences.

NEW SPIRIT HITS NATION

People Almost Willing to do Anything to Beat Germans—Tax on Almost Everything.

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
London, June 20—(By Mail)—It has all happened so gradually in England that no one has particularly noticed it. But if you have been away from London for six months you find upon your return that the last half year has utterly changed the lives of Englishmen.

Suppose for instance that your town were London. What would the war have done to it? Or to your home life? And how would you take these changes?

Would you be satisfied if half the matches you bought didn't light because the sticks broke or the sulphur tips were absent? And if the price on matches went up, in spite of this?

Or how would you take it if the coal man didn't make his deliveries and you found your home coalless some raw morning?

Or suppose the government put a license tax of $95 a year on your little family automobile for which you had paid only $500. And gasoline went up to 35 cents a gallon?

Suppose your morning newspaper kept getting smaller and smaller, week by week, because the newspaper supply was getting low?

Suppose for every dollar you made you had to turn over a dime to the government for war purposes, just as an income tax, not including the many small taxes you would pay on almost everything consumed in your home?

Would you be bothered? Strangely enough, if you had the spirit of the new England you wouldn't. Your whole idea would be to beat Germany and that idea would keep your attention so closely riveted to the battlefields that the details of home inconveniences would largely escape you.

At least, to a neutral onlooker, they have escaped the folk of London.

It is difficult for a neutral to understand this unless he is on the ground but, if you had the new English spirit — and such a spirit has grown up within the last six months and reaches down to the very core of English life — and your town were London, you would be enduring inconveniences that appear almost unbelievable to you.

There's beefsteak at forty-two cents a pound. Beefsteak, in your home in Missouri or Kansas, would become a luxury.

There wouldn't be many eggs for breakfast at 7 cents apiece.

Suppose as an Easter treat, you planned to have eggs anyhow, and then were faced by this announcement in the newspapers:

"Please don't eat eggs for Easter, our soldiers need a million eggs." Would you go without eggs?

You would.

If you were a suburbanite and found a government tax put on your commutation ticket so that your morning and evening rides cost you an additional seventy-five cents a week. If telephone calls went up to seven cents from five. If your Havana cigars were not permitted to enter the country. If your daily drinks were raised in price from 25 to 35 per cent. If shaves went up from ten cents to fifteen cents. If your wife could only buy one pound of sugar at a time at the grocer's and then the grocer insisted that she make other purchases at his store if she wanted him to sell her sugar.

If you think that you would be annoyed by all these things you are wrong.

Britons within the last half year, are doing and enduring all these things with great satisfaction and pride.

Under like conditions, folk in American towns would do the same.

WONDERS WHAT EMBASSY IS FOR

David R. Francis, New Ambassador to Russia Holds Open House as a Plain American

NO LETTERS NEEDED TO GET IN

Better Relations Between Two Countries May Result if he Stays on the Job There

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
Petrograd, May 6—(By Mail)—David R. Francis, former Governor of Missouri now new American Ambassador to Russia has solved the riddle of Why is an American Embassy? Incidentally he is a hit. And they say he is doing it by being a plain American.

"I don't pretend to be a diplomat," Ex-Governor Myron T. Herrick remarked shortly after he had been named Ambassador to France. "I am just a plain American sent here by the American government to look after the interests of the American people, and that is what I am going to do to the very best of my ability."

This Herrick did. When the war burst on Europe like a thunderclap he cut red tape right and left and figuratively went at things in his shirt sleeves. He assisted Americans in plain, effective, straightforward ways. And he made the biggest hit with the French, high and low, of any ambassador since Franklin.

From what Americans here say David R. Francis bids fair to duplicate Herrick's success, and in much the same way. He has turned the American Embassy at No. 34 Furshatskaya into an open house for Americans. The Yankee abroad does not have to bring letters from prominent politicians at home to gain admittance. He does not feel like an intruder when he calls. The place is a beehive for work yet no secretary is too busy to be pleasant. Nobody snarls but neither does anybody glare when a visitor appears at the door. There is neither fawning nor frowning, neither servility nor stuckupishness — the entire atmosphere of the place is one of plain, simple Americanism.

"Going to be long in Petrograd? Drop around when you feel like it. Come and read the American papers. Don't need to ask for anybody. Make yourself at home."

That is the kind of thing Americans encounter at No. 34 Furshatskaya now. Nor is it exceptional. If one wishes to see the "Governor" as he is already called here — which in itself says considerable — he can be seen without interminable waits. If he is busy in his private office a secretary will say quite frankly:

"The Governor is talking to the owner of the building now but he'll see you in a minute," or words to that effect. One is not smothered in mystery thick as mush nor led to imagine that at least the Emperor must be waiting on the Ambassador begging for advice on how to run the country. The plain truth seems to be negotiable nowadays at No. 34. Francis belongs to the "Marse" Henry Watterson type of American,

gone by Londoners, almost without comment, include:

Watching the birthrate fall so that nine babies are now born where ten were born before.

Riding in street cars and buses that are so dark that you can hardly see what fare you're handing the conductor.

Cutting down of mail deliveries.

Moving about at night in pitch dark streets.

And knowing that new inconveniences are perhaps in sight in the near future, if the government discovers that they are necessary.

But London takes all these as a matter of course.

If the day's communiques from Sir Douglas Haig and Gen. Joffre are what London calls "good," London is satisfied in spite of its home troubles.

He is tall, well set-up, white of hair and mustache, possessed of plentiful natural dignity and poise but utterly lacking in pose. He had no actual diplomatic training before coming here so he does not try to make those who call on him believe he taught Machiavelli and Gladstone all they know. Having done a few things himself which require common sense combined with tact he has a pardonable amount of self-confidence and so hopes and believes he will be able to "get along". His conversation is unadorned American. nor does he make the slightest effort to wrap his each and every word in diplomatically and hermetically sealed packages and pass them along untouched by human hands.

The report is current here that both the Czar and the Czarina took a strong liking to the new Ambassador. The Imperial couple received him before he had been here a week, constituting a record. He wore no uniform and was detained in conversation with the Czar 35 minutes.

Governor Francis has a big job on his hands. The Commercial Treaty existing between Russia and the United States was broken off during President Taft's administration and a new treaty may be one of the important things, expected of him. Russia and America have not thoroughly understood each other for a long time and better relations generally between the two nations is another task entrusted to him. The American Colony here believe the right man has been chosen.

If you happen to be one of the Yankee legion who in traveling abroad, have gone away from an American Embassy sore wondering why is an Embassy, and if you would still like to know the answer, write, wire or call at No. 34 Furshatskaya, this city.

HORSES ARE NOT REALLY SO SCARCE

Statistics Show They Number Twenty-Seven and Half Million in Spite of the War.

INDIANA HAS 1,124,043

The report of a shortage of horses in the United States is greatly exaggerated according to the reports of statisticians who have gone over the situation very carefully. According to the latest census, in spite of the heavy exports to Europe, there are more than twenty-seven and a half million horses in the country. Texas, the biggest state leads with 2,053,220 horses, while Rhode Island the smallest commonwealth has the smallest number, 27,508. Indiana is the eighth state with 1,124,043 horses.
